

Workshop on Ethics, Jus Post Bellum, and International Law
23-24 August 2010 in Canberra
Funded by a Discovery Grant from the Australian Research Council
Sponsored by Centre for Applied Philosophy and Public Ethics (CAPPE)
Room 1.04 Coombs Extension, ANU Campus

Monday 8:30-10:30

Hilary Charlesworth (ANU, Law)

The Post Bellum Moment in International Law

Seth Lazar (Oxford, Institute for Ethics, Law and Armed Conflict)

What's Unique about Jus Post Bellum in Just War theory?

11:00-1:00

Toni Erskine (Aberystwyth, International Politics & RMIT/Melbourne, Global Ethics)

Who is Responsible? Institutional Moral Agency

Joanna Kyriakakis (Monash, Law)

Economic Actors

2:00-4:00

Robert Talisse (Vanderbilt, Philosophy and Political Science)

Democratization After War Ends

Larry May (CAPPE, and Vanderbilt, Philosophy and Law)

Forms of Reparation

4:30-5:30

Margaret Walker (Arizona State, Philosophy)

Truth-telling Processes

7:00 Dinner at "the gods" on ANU campus

Tuesday 8:30-10:30

Phil Clark (Oxford, Law & Transitional Justice Research Group)

Community-based Accountability for Genocidaires and War Criminals

Rob Cryer (Birmingham, Law)

Fragmenting of International Law

11:00-1:00

Helen Stacy (Stanford, Law and Institute for International Studies)

Role of Regional Courts

Mark Drumbl (Washington & Lee, Law)

Child Soldiers and the Narrative of Childhood Innocence

2:00-3:00

*Tony Coady (Melbourne, CAPPE and Philosophy)

Post-war Attitudes to "Our" and "Their" Troops

3:00-4:00 Wrap-up Session on Normative Principles – Larry May moderator

6:30 – Dinner at Lemmongrass Rest. – 65 London Circuit (walking distance)

Other participants: Tom Campbell (CAPPE), Marilyn Friedman (CAPPE, and Vanderbilt, Phil), Christian Barry (CAPPE), Toby Handfield (Monash, Law), Igor Primoratz (CAPPE), Michael Selgelid (CAPPE), Jovana Davidovic (Minnesota, Philosophy), Geoffrey Brennan (ANU, Phil/Econ), Scott Wisor (CAPPE), Shannon Ford (CAPPE)